Records Compared.

The boast has been publicly made that U. S. Gregory, as license collector, collected, to use his own language, "more than double as much as any other license collector ever did in a like period of time." We do not propose to delve into the distant past, to prove the truth or falsity of this statement. We are willing to let it stand unchallenged up to the time his surrendering the office of collector to his successor, the present sheriff, T. K. Norman. We propose to show from official sources that this self-laudation can by no means be truthfully indulged in today, whatever may be said of the conditions prior to four years ago. We have taken the trouble to compile from the auditor's books the collections from the sale of county licenses during the last three years of U. S. Gregory's term, and the first three years under T. K. Norman's administration of the office. The figures given are the gross collections, including the ten per cent commission which the collector is authorized under the law to retain as compensation for his services. The figures are as follows, showing each quarterly settlement:

U. S. Gregory.
March, 1900	$2197 50
July	2499 50
November	2278 00
	$6975 00

	$12582 50
Total	$29,472 50

The year 1906 is not included, for the reason that the incorporation of Jackson has diverted a large proportion of the license revenue from the county treasury. It would not afford any criterion of judgment between the present and the past official term. So in the tabulated statement we have a difference of $2017 in favor of the Norman administration. That is over $670 per year. Certainly this showing looks well for the present official. If Gregory beat all previous records in license business, T. K. Norman has thrown him hopelessly in the shade. No one will contend that the increased revenue of $670 per year was owing to an increase in the number of business places subject to license. It was simply that the republican officer was more zealous in his work of getting in the licenses.

We are unable to give a sufficient reason for this sudden jump in the license collections, following immediately after a change in the office of license collector. One point we have looked up in regard to theatre licenses issued and sold during the years 1902 and 1903, the first named being the last year under the Gregory administration, and the last named year being the first under the Norman term. We find that in 1902, there were issued 11 theatre licenses at $10 each, and 14 at $2.50. In the same year there were returned 4 $10 licenses and two $2.50 as unsold. From this it follows that 8 $10 licenses, amounting to $80, and 12 $2.50, amounting to $30 were paid into the county treasury; a total of $110 from this source of income during the year.

Turning to the first year of Norman's term—1903—we find the account stands as follows:
Issued—86 at $2.50. Returned—61 at $2.50.
—55 at $10.00. —44 at $10.00.

Sold 25 at $2.50, amounting to $62.50, and 11 weekly at $10, amounting to $110. So that the receipts in the Norman year from $10 licenses alone, amounted to exactly the same figures as the total collected the previous year from both kinds of theatre licenses, leaving the receipts from the $2.50, or $62.50, as the net balance in favor of 1903. These are the facts from the records. We have no explanation to offer. Our readers must form their own conclusions. Was there such a boom in the show business in 1903 that caused nearly two thirds more revenue to flow into the county treasury from that business than the preceding year, or is it attributable to greater diligence on the part of the collector in 1903.

Help! Help!
I'm Falling

Thus cried the hair. And a kind neighbor came to the rescue with a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor. The hair was saved! This was because Ayer's Hair Vigor is a regular hair medicine. Falling hair is caused by a germ, and this medicine completely destroys these germs. Then the healthy scalp gives rich, healthy hair.

In the three-cornered fight for the governorship, there is a marked tendency on all sides to play upon false issues. Republicans are trying to impress upon voters the necessity of electing Gillett on account of national issues that are alleged to be involved. A vote against the republican standard bearer, they say, is a vote against the party of Lincoln and of Roosevelt. That his defeat in this campaign would be interpreted as a blow at the republican policy of protection, and the unprecedented prosperity the nation is enjoying as the result of that policy. The truth is, the political machinists who engineered the rawest kind of raw work at the Santa Cruz convention, and who dictated the equally discredited circumstances in a number of counties that led up to the defeat of Lard—these people's choice—are alarmed at the widespread revolt their action has created in the party ranks. The revolt they know full well has for its object the redemption of the party from the thralldom of bossism by the administration of such a rebuke to the would-be bosses that will not soon be forgotten, and will by its moral effect strengthen rather than weaken the national organization. That such a feeling exists is one of the most encouraging signs of this campaign. Mere place hunters may deplore it, and loudly denounce it, but thousands of stalwarts, who are republicans from principle, and not for policy, rejoice that the great pulsating heart of the party is true to conscience and to right. Better that Gillett go down in defeat—the victim of political freebooters—than the sense of right be blunted or enslaved.

William Seoble, says in explanation of his coming out as independent candidate for constable in township five, that he had taken that office when no one else wanted it or would have it, when it was on a fee basis; that now there is a salary attached to it, others are after it for that reason. He was defeated in the convention by half a vote, but at the instance of his friends, he concluded to run independent. He made a good constable; there is no denying that fact. His opponents are J. E. Walton, republican nominee, and Norman Wheeler, the democratic candidate.

The democratic candidates will commence their speaking tour this evening, at Lancha Plana. The republicans will make their debut in the same place next Monday. Both sides will be kept busy from now on until the polls close on November 6.

History Recalled.

We republish on our first page an article taken from the Ledger of October 31, 1902—the last issue before the general election of that year. In this article is included the material points of the defense of U. S. Gregory, under his own signature, which was written and circulated broadcast over the county, purporting to be an explanation and refutation of statements made in a previous issue of the Ledger, relating to the prosecution and conviction of one W. H. Lester, on a charge of cattle stealing, and also a statement that certain weekly theater licenses due from the Morrell Show Company had not been included in the settlement of the license collector made in October, 1902. As far as the Lester case is concerned, the article needs no further comment at our hands. The facts admitted, and those taken from the official records, which are indisputable, speak for themselves. Illustrating, as they do, the methods in vogue in those days in criminal proceedings, they appeal powerfully to the voters of Amador in this election. Some of those concerned in this cross lot process of sending men to the penitentiary are seeking the suffrages of the voters. And it is this fact that gives vitality to this peculiar case. The question that presents itself now is, Do the people of Amador county want to return to such modes of procedure? Will they vote for men for high office who exercised their authority in the manner described therein, and defended such action by the so-called explanation rouchsafed?

Now in regard to the statement that the theatre licenses would be collected and turned in with the license collector's next quarterly statement. The next quarterly settlement and the last one made in Mr. Gregory's term, was made in January 1903. We have made an effort to verify that statement by records of the tax collector's office, but have failed. The collector is supposed to keep a license book in which the name of every person subject to license is entered, the date of payment, the amount paid, the kind of license and the term included. Sheriff Norman, during his incumbency, has kept such a record book. Every license issued by him is a matter of permanent record in his office. There is a book showing these facts under the former regime up to 1896. But we could find nothing to show the details of the license business covering a period from 1896 until 1903. Those in the sheriff office say they found no such record on assuming office. A book of this kind was kept, they have never seen it. Failing to find such a record, we endeavored to hunt up the license collector's statement for the particular quarter in question. This also we could not find. In his explanation, the ex-license collector says we might have ascertained the fact of payment from the stub of the license book. The law requires that when a license book is exhausted, the stubs shall be returned to the auditor. These stubs should show to whom licenses were sold. It seems, however, that these stub books are stored away in the basement of the hall of records. Lack of room is a bar to their being kept in the office proper. We have not tried to dig up the information from this pile of old relics and discarded documents, and hence we have to leave the subject shrouded in darkness. In conclusion, we may say that it seems to us a funny and undesirable state of affairs that no record evidence is obtainable, showing the names of license payers of such comparatively recent times.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Being a member of the Sons of Rest, of Volcano, it is my duty to read the sporting papers of Amador county. A brother of the above named order showed me an article in the Dispatch the other day with the following headline, "A Trust, or rather the Grillo Trust of Volcano." This article was signed "A farmer." Now that said farmer names all the different branches of the Grillo trust, and says he has to patronize them.

First the butcher trust; said farmer has to buy his meat there. Well, well, if a farmer has to patronize a butcher business, he certainly is not raising stock, otherwise he would not have to buy his meat, especially if he hates the trust business.

Now I do not want to go any further into his sideshow, but come to the main circus. "Grillo Brothers represent that said trust, are a set of fine boys, and wide awake boys, with ambition and honest business qualifications. They started out with nothing, saved up a little money, and rigged up the old butcher shop, which by the way had been through the pawnshop a couple of times before they took hold of it and made the thing stick. And as nobody else had ginger and enterprise enough to go ahead, they branched out into different lines, and doing a straight, honest business kept Volcano up to modern times. This is what that farmer calls trust. Why? Because the green eyes of jealousy has got a hold of him, as A. Grillo, one of the brothers is again running for supervisor of District No. 3, of Amador county, and has a fair chance for reelection.

Wine grapes are selling as high as $30 per ton—the highest price in this county for many years. The crop is not a heavy one this season, but the extra price ought to fully make up for the deficiency in the crop. Of late years, the price ranged from $20 to $25. There is money in raising wine grapes at this price.

Mrs Geo. Thomas of Hunts gulch, about two weeks ago, in opening a gate, ran several silvers in her hand. She extracted one or two at the time, although aware that others were embedded in the fleshy part of the hand. The hand became so swollen and painful, that she was compelled to seek the aid of a surgeon, and an operation was necessary. Two large splinters were extracted much to the relief of the sufferer.

Grand President of N. D. G. W., Mrs Eva T. Busenius, is expected to visit Ursula Parlor No. 1, on Thursday evening next. The members are making great preparations to give her a royal greeting.

W. D. LASWELL INSANE.

From Cigarette Smoking.

A San Francisco paper of the 17th instant says:

Insane because he smoked between twenty-five and thirty cigarettes a day, William D. Laswell, a carpenter, residing at 1314 East Eleventh street, Oakland, was committed to the Stockton asylum by Judge Waste yesterday morning. Laswell has been addicted to the use of cigarettes for a period of seventeen years. His skin has become yellow with the fumes of the nicotine, and his mind has been unbalanced by the poison. Laswell is forty-four years old.

Mrs Harvey Clark, a sister of Laswell, appeared in court to testify against her brother.

The unfortunate victim of the cigarette habit, was a resident of Jackson and vicinity for the greater part of his life. He owned a house on the Webb-Mason tract, which he sold three or four months ago, and thereafter left for the bay, and has made his home in Oakland ever since. His mother, Mrs Laswell, who has been living with relatives in Oakland, was also reported very sick, probably in a great measure caused by the mental breakdown of her son. Mrs Harvey Clark went down last week from this city on that account, and will bring her mother back with her, to live in Jackson, as soon as they can dispose of the few household effects.

Attempted Safe Cracking.

A daring attempt at safe cracking was made in Volcano at an early hour Sunday morning. The object was the money contained in the safe of the Grillo Bros. store in that town. It was thought that the would-be robbers tackled the job between one and 2 o'clock in the morning. The burglar was not discovered until the following morning, when the owners started to open up for business. It was then discovered that a lot of wooden goods had been removed from their accustomed place, and laid off wrapped around the safe. It was evidently done by the burglars to deaden the sound of explosives used to break open the safe. An examination showed that dynamite had been placed so as to force the iron band—3 inches wide and about half an inch thick—which protected the keyhole of the combination. The explosion did not disrupt the iron guard. There were also indications that a drilling apparatus had been employed to get at the combination, and force the outer door. It had only been started, the probability being that the metal was found to be too hard to penetrate, or that the safe crackers got scared and quit. They made an entrance by forcing the iron screening to the cellar, and from there entered the store proper. There was a dance at Pine Grove Saturday night, and many from Volcano attended. They commenced to return home about two o'clock in the morning, and many think that the returning pleasure hunters scared the burglars from their contemplated task. The blast of dynamite was distinctly heard by those in a saloon near by. Nothing was thought of it, other than that it was some blank shooting on the part of the home-comingers from the dance. There was considerable money in the safe at the time—some accounts place the amount as over $2000.

Score One for Proctor.

It is generally known that Proctor, the republican candidate for sheriff, is by a good margin the tallest man in the county, standing 6 feet 6 inches in height. One day last week, in making the round of the business places in Jackson for the purpose of tacking up his cards, he entered a store and secured permission to place his own announcement with others exhibited on the wall. There was quite an array of them. The other fellows had occupied all the available space as far as they could reach. This did not disconcert Proctor in the least. "I guess I'll put mine on top," he said, without the least considering the feat from the ordinary man's standpoint. So standing on the floor, he with ease nailed his card at the top, thereby forming the apex of a pyramid. It was over eight feet to the top of the card. A medium sized man cannot touch even the lower edge of the card. This prize winner in the way of long reaching can be seen in Langhorst's store. And the best of the joke is it was done not to display his superiority in this regard, but unconsciously, and as a matter of necessity, for there was no room elsewhere.

F. O. Gardner, president of the Stockton Business College, writes us that Lewis Love of Jackson, who is now taking a course in that well known institution on a prize scholarship awarded by the Ledger. "Lewis Love is a fine young fellow, and will succeed. He is helping himself by being delivery boy in town." This means that during the interval between school hours, he is employed by one of the large merchandise firms in delivering parcels, and thereby earns money to pay his incidental expenses. He is making satisfactory progress in his studies.

Hon. W. F. Englebright, republican candidate for congress, and R. D. Jones of Illinois were in Jackson Tuesday, and remained for a few hours, getting acquainted with the people. They will address the citizens in Sutter Creek, this evening.

Don't forget the republican speaking to-morrow night in Love's hall. Two able speakers will be there. Frank P. Flint, United States senator, and Jud. C. Brusie, will address the citizens. A big rally is looked for.

Get busy, now is the time to get yourself a good warm wrap, 20c off on the dollar at the Jackson Shoe Store.

Democratic Speaking.

The first rally of the campaign in Jackson from the public speaking standpoint, was by the democrats last Saturday, when F. W. Taft, the democratic nominee for congress in this district, A. Caminetti, candidate for state senator, and V. Matson, nominee for the assembly, were the speaking attractions. Bonfires blazed on the street, the band discoursed music, and a large paper bell was suspended in front of the hall, the emblem of democracy. But all failed to awaken any enthusiasm. The street was thronged with people, and the hall was well filled, two thirds at least being ladies.

R. C. Hole was selected as chairman and after making a few remarks introduced Mr Matson of Angels, as the first speaker. He acknowledged that he was not out out to do much in the talking role. He said he was a native son, born in Calaveras county, was a poor man, had been owner of one of the richest mines in Angels, but had to give it up being without capital to work it. He wanted them to remember him on election day by overlooking his opponent, Geo. F. Snyder, and stamping the cross opposite the name of Matson.

F. W. Taft was next introduced. He told the audience that he came from Del Norte, and was going to congress. He was born in the state, was a lawyer by profession. He was in favor of the extension of the Chinese exclusion law, so as to include the Japanese and Koreans. He also favored the nomination of all candidates by direct primary, and thereby do away with the evils of convention manipulation by political bosses. He spoke in favor of the initiative and referendum. This plan had worked satisfactorily in other states, and there was no reason why it should not work equally satisfactory here. The objection that he, belonging to the minority party, could not do much for the district if elected, was met by referring to what other representatives had accomplished. He mentioned T. J. Geary, the author of the Chinese exclusion law, A. Caminetti, the author of the mining lebrist law, M. DeVries and Theodore Bell. He promised to look carefully after the mining interests. He was versed in mining laws; his opponent Mr Englebright was a mining surveyor by profession. He hoped the voters would elect Englebright to stay at home and do the mining surveying, and elect him (Taft) to congress to look after the framing of mining laws for the first district. Mr Taft is a fluent speaker, not an orator of the magnetic order. His speech was attentively listened to throughout, although there was very little cheering or applause. Indeed, the meeting all through was lacking in enthusiasm. It was a decidedly dismal affair, and the wretched inadequacy of the lighting facilities of the hall made the gloomy feeling more pronounced.

A. Caminetti, was the last speaker. He gave an outline of the proposed changes in the law that he would advocate if elected state senator. He wanted to impress upon the voters that it was vitally important at this time to have some one to look after the mining interests of this district. The reclamation schemes now proposed threatened to interfere not only with hydraulic mining, but with quartz mining as well. He proposed changes in the school laws so as to throw the entire cost of high schools upon the state treasury, the same as the common schools. He thought if the common schools and the state universities were supported by the people generally, why should not the high schools be placed upon the same footing. He believed in a reform of the revenue system. The big money making corporation should be made to pay a larger proportion of the burden of government, and the small property holders should be relieved. He made a novel proposition to meet the scruples of republicans on the matter of the election of a United States Senator. He promised, if elected, to cast his vote for a federal senator for whoever might be named by the electors of this district. A vote might be taken on that subject at the general election preceding the senatorial contest, by arranging a separate and informal ballot at each precinct, where every voter might express his choice. Whoever received the highest number of votes, whether republican or democrat, would command his vote for that high position. This proposition would eliminate the United States senatorship for the campaign. By the time Caminetti got through with the talk the audience was materially diminished in size. A dance was given by the local band after the performance, and the young folks many of whom stayed maully for the purpose, "tripped the light fantastic" for several hours.

Death of Mrs L. Hanley.

Mrs Lottie Hanley died at the county hospital, Sunday October 14, 1906. She was admitted in that place August 26, 1900, and has been there ever since. The cause of her death, was apoplectic fits, of which she has been suffering for many years. She was born in Amador county, in the year 1863, and was 43 years old at the time of her death. She leaves to mourn her death, four daughters, a mother and a husband.

The funeral took place Tuesday afternoon, interment in the Catholic cemetery at Jackson.

CASTORIA.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Wedded Again.

The Stockton Independent of Tuesday mentions that a marriage license was issued by the county clerk of San Joaquin, authorizing the marriage of Mary A. Head, aged 47, and Joseph A. Hansen, aged 39, both of Jackson. Mrs Head is the mother of Mrs Emma Ledoux, under sentence of death in Stockton for the murder of McVicar. The groom is a comparative stranger here, but we understand has been employed on the Head place recently. While the license has been issued, we have failed to see any announcement of the marriage, although it is reported that the same took place in Stockton early this week.

Died from Cancer.

Mrs Lavinia J. Peters, who was a resident of Amador City for many years, but who lately has lived with her daughter, Mrs J. W. Caldwell in Jackson, died on Sunday last. For a long term of years she had been afflicted with cancer of the breast. Some say the disease started as long as thirty years back. She felt little trouble from it, however, until about last February, and from that time it became rapidly worse, working inward to the vital organs. During the past summer, she went to the seacoast, in the hope that a change of air and scenery would prove beneficial. But the hope was delusive, and Mrs Caldwell went down to accompany her to Jackson. Death was due to the weakening of the vital forces by the malady.

Mrs Peters was a native of Cornwall, England, where she was born 71 years ago on the 3rd of this month. In early womanhood, she came to America, and soon after she, in New York state, was married to her life companion, whom she survived for about twelve years. Thirty years ago, she with her husband, came to Amador City, where she has since resided, until about four years ago, she came to Jackson to live with her only daughter, Mrs Caldwell. Wm. Peters of the Jackson City Pharmacy, is the only other surviving child.

When only sixteen years of age, Mrs Peters united with the church and her life has always been such as adorned the gospel, and to know her was to appreciate the unselfishness of her soul and the childlike innocence of her character. Amador county was blessed in having this saintly woman in its midst. Her last words, were words of faith and hope and joy there was no fear, no dark valley to pass through, for the light of eternity illuminated the pathway. She fell asleep and awoke with God.

Tuesday morning burial services were conducted from the home of Mr Caldwell by Rev. C. E. Winning, of the Methodist church, after which the remains were lovingly carried to the Amador City church, where an appropriate discourse was delivered, after which her form was laid beside that of her husband in the Oak Knoll Cemetery. Surely few deaths occasion such profound grief as the departure of Mrs L. Peters.

Her Skull Fractured.

Mrs Isaac W. Harlan met with an accident on the street in Sacramento Monday, which will probably result fatally. She, with her children, was taking a buggy ride and driving a spirited horse. The animal stumbled and fell, and as she was driving with tight lines, she was pulled over the dash board and struck on her head on the stone sidewalk, fracturing her skull. She remained unconscious for 48 hours and her attending physicians were of the belief that her injuries would result fatally. Her grandmother, Mrs Sasa Bass, went down from here Wednesday to be at her bedside. Mrs Harlan was formerly a resident of this place for many years and was well known. Her many friends hope that she will recover from her serious injury.—Lone Echo.

English Trains on Time.

The public service rendered by the British railway lines, the convenience to the traveler and the shipper, is far in excess of anything to be found in this country. The British isles are almost entirely surrounded by water, and it is a matter of course that the operating problems. There are no snowdrifts to delay schedules, no sections of crudely built track awaiting perfection, and the locomotives are never far from their home shops. Yet even with allowance for these advantages both freight and passenger traffic are habitually handled with a regularity and certainty that deserve the highest degree of praise. In any large terminal in England the number of passenger trains that arrive either exactly on time or a minute or two ahead is far greater than that of trains even the least overdue. Five minutes is usually a safe margin for an important connection. At Finsbury Park, a suburban station just outside London, trains pass on an average of one every two minutes night and day, yet the tremendous traffic is handled with clocklike precision.—Ray Morris in Atlantic.

Queer Russian Ways.

If you drive through a Russian village about 10 p. m. you will be struck by the absolute quiet that pervades the scene. Not a creature, man or dog, is visible moving about. The place has the air of a deserted village. Suppose by some rare untoward chance you come upon a group of men standing together, apparently in conversation; you will notice that they speak in subdued tones, and wait so long as you please, you will never hear their laugh. The cause is simply this: These Russian peasants believe in evil spirits; but, unlike the Chinese, they believe that they are attracted, not frightened, by sounds. And so if some unlucky fate decrees that the moujik be out of doors after 11 p. m. he is a painfully silent man. This feeling also extends to some of the southern towns. Kiev, the holy city of Russia, is a model in this respect. After 10 p. m. you may practically have the streets to yourself.—Blackwood's Magazine.

Bearing Another's Burden.

That it is not impossible to ring a new change on woman's aversion to telling her correct age has been proved by the rector of a New York church. He does not appear to be more than fifty years old, but declared to an inquiring parishioner that he was seventy-five and added, "I shall be seventy-seven my next birthday." "The other evening," he explained, "my wife and I computed that our combined ages foot up to a hundred years. Now, of course, no lady is ever over twenty-five years old, so to keep peace in the family I suppose I must say I'm seventy-five." "But why will you be seventy-seven your next birthday?" "Because my wife's birthday and mine happen to fall on the same date, and—with a sigh of resignation—"of course I shall have to shoulder both of them."

Presidential Coincidences.

John Adams was eight years older than his successor, Thomas Jefferson; he was eight years older than James Madison; he was eight years older than James Monroe, and he was eight years older than John Q. Adams. George Washington ended his term as president in his sixty-fifth year, and so, too, did John Adams and Thomas Jefferson. James Madison and James Monroe, Thomas Jefferson and John Adams died on the same day, July 4, 1826, exactly fifty years after the signing of the Declaration of Independence. One other president, James Monroe, died on July 4. His death occurred in 1831.

Perfect Features.

In a perfect face every feature should bear a certain proportion to every other feature. The width of the face should be equal to five eyes. The distance between the eyes should be exactly equal to one eye. Another important relation is that between the eyes and the mouth. The width of the eyes should be equal to two-thirds that of the mouth. The nose should be equal in length to the height of the forehead, of a regular shape and precisely defined outline.

Do You Want to Know
What You Swallow?

There is a growing sentiment in this country in favor of medicines of known composition. It is but natural that one should have some interest in the composition of that which he or she is expected to swallow, whether it be food, drink or medicine.

Recognizing this growing disposition on the part of the public, and satisfied that the fullest publicity can only add to the well-earned reputation of his medicines, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., has "taken time by the forelock," as it were, and is publishing a booklet, a list of all the ingredients entering into his leading medicines, the "Golden Medical Discovery," the popular liver invigorator, stomach tonic, blood purifier and heart regulator; also of his "Favorite Prescription" for weak, over-worked, broken-down, nervous and invalid women.

This bold and outspoken movement on the part of Dr. Pierce, has, by showing exactly what his well-known medicines are composed of, completely disarmed all harping critics who have heretofore unjustly attacked them. A little pamphlet has been compiled from the standard medical authorities of all the several schools of practice, showing the strongest endorsement by leading medical writers of the several ingredients which enter into Dr. Pierce's medicines. A copy of this little book is mailed free to any one desiring to learn more concerning the valuable, native, medicinal plants which enter into the composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are tiny, sugar-coated anti-bilious granules. They regulate and invigorate Stomach, Liver and Bowels. Do not hurt the "pill habit," but cure constipation. One or two each day for a laxative and regulator, three or four for an active cathartic. Once tried always in favor.

$50.00 GIVEN AWAY, in copies of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a book that sold to the extent of 500,000 copies a few years ago, at $50 per copy. Last year we gave away 200,000 of these little books. This year we shall give away $50,000 worth of them. Will you be one of the lucky ones? If so, send only 21 one-cent stamps to cover the cost of mailing only for book in stiff paper covers, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.
